Born To Create: Stepping Into Your Supernatural Destiny

Synopsis

Creatively Supernatural! Offering a launching pad for you to burst into the realm of creative expression—that fun, fantasy world where the Creator is waiting to welcome you. There is a connection between creativity, your identity, the Church, and the world—and it is an important connection. Creativity is tied to all believers—identity, all who are made in the image of the Creator, all who are born to create! Overflowing with many thrilling, modern-day testimonies, Born to Create emphasizes the magnitude of both craft—practice and excellence—as well as anointing. Many who have been freed to embrace their creative ideas and passions, whether in the art fields, business, or education, share their amazing stories with you. Their freedom allowed them to powerfully release healing, the prophetic, and the knowledge of God—His love into the marketplace. Live creatively, friends. If someone falls into sin, forgivingly restore him, saving your critical comments for yourself. You might be needing forgiveness before the day is out. Stoop down and reach out to those who are oppressed. Share their burdens, and so complete Christ—His law (Galatians 6:1 The Message). You will learn how the supernatural can be activated through what you create, and you will explore hindrances from understanding your creative destiny—your true identity.

Customer Reviews

"The amazing testimonies in 'Creative Imagineering,' will encourage you to become more childlike and believe that nothing is impossible for those who truly know that they are The Father's delight!" --Heidi Baker PhD, Founding Director, Iris Global "Whether you're a novice or a professional this book is for you. It will inspire, encourage, and equip you to new levels of creativity that you never imagined possible." --Kris Vallotton, Co-Founder of Bethel School of Supernatural Ministry "When you take this subject matter with Theresa's teaching gift and enthusiasm for life you find yourself reading an explosive book that will awaken a new depth in you." --Shawn Bolz, Expression58

Theresa Dedmon has been involved in pastoral ministry for more than 30 years. She has a degree in Psychology from Vanguard University and minored in Biblical Studies. She has been on staff at Bethel Church in Redding, California, since 2003 where she oversees Bethel's School of Supernatural Ministry's second year program and is head of the Prophetic Arts Department. She travels the United States and abroad teaching on the supernatural and creativity.

Anyone who has read my blog (AMOKArts.com) would know this is a book that is right up my alley, using creativity in ministry and as such, this book surely does not disappoint. While this book is great for creatives, there is another group that could probably use this book even more and that is people who do not believe they are creative. Dedmon tears down so many of the walls people build around their own creativity. I have always believed myself to be a creative and truthfully this book even felt liberating to me. There is a wealth of information here from someone who is at the forefront of creative ministry and everyone could be blessed by reading it. I think at the core of the message of this book is the idea that creativity is a gift from God that can, and must be used, in a multitude of ways to the glory of God and for His Kingdom. You were born to create. If you don't believe that, you need to read this book and if you do believe it, read it anyway, it will spur you on to even greater love and good deeds.

Teresa Dedmon has written an entirely practical book about something supernatural, which seems entirely impractical. I love the far reaching implications of using God given creativity to impact the marketplace, society, schools, and churches. Very thought provoking, challenging, and encouraging all at the same time.

What an inspiring book! I can't wait to finish it because what I've read so far has inspired me to create. We were definitely born to create because we were made by the Ultimate Creator! The book is easy to comprehend and read. The author doesn't just focus on painting or writing, but on trades that you wouldn't necessarily think of as art, i.e. culinary skills. It will help you to take that inherent desire within your heart and hone it into a creative and maybe lucrative expression of yourself into an artistry of creativity.

Enjoyed the book; it's full of meaty help and great information. Highly recommended. Just one thing bothered me, that might not bother anyone else. I enjoy reading, and generally read 3-4 books a month. I was excited about the topic of the book and saw the author on a TV program, so I was really looking forward to reading it. Being a graphic designer, and more specifically a book designer, I noticed immediately that an unusually large portion of the text in this book was typeset in italic. Italic should be used sparingly in a book, to provide emphasis to important passages of text. Having so much more italic than usual made it very hard for me to read, and it took a lot longer than it should have. I found it to be visually distracting. Another reviewer commented that it was hard to concentrate while reading. Perhaps this is why?

A couple of weeks ago, I asked my prayer group to pray for me to use my creative mind to help others. I love being creative. Since then I have stopped by my piano and played hymns on my way to my computer and it is giving me joy. Then I selected this book on my Kindle and have been reading it every night before I sleep. Since beginning this book, I have finished a lap quilt and have a good start on another. Since they are specific gifts for special people, I have have many prophetic thoughts about each of these people. It will be interesting and fun to see how they respond. Good job listening to God speaking to you, Theresa Dedmon!

This was a wonderfully encouraging book to me as an artist! I loved it! She also opened my mind up even more about not only does our creativity come from God, but to create to minister to others in a supernatural way through prayer etc. to be able to create things that will speak and minister to people deeply. I also loved the examples of what others are doing and how they are using their creativity. Will read it again and plan on applying what I am learning to my artwork!

Incredible book for both creatives and those who don't consider themselves to be creative. Wonderful stories about what God is currently doing in the Earth, plus challenging concepts that will change the way you see the world. Love this book and would highly recommend to anyone who is truly interested in more of God.

This book changed my life. God started downloading creative ideas, I acted on them and people are being blessed. Me too.
