Montessori Based Activities For Persons, Vol.II

Synopsis

Montessori-Based Activities for Persons with Dementia, Volume 2 is the follow-up companion to Myers Research Institute's first volume. This manual represents the culmination of years of effort, involving a large number of people. In preparing Volume 2, the authors incorporated reader feedback into the development of new activities programming for individuals with dementia and other cognitive disorders (such as adults with developmental disabilities). The manual contains all new Montessori-Based activities, including, activities for individuals and groups, intergenerational activities, activities for men, subject based activities and activities for restorative care/nursing rehabilitation practices. This manual provides step-by-step instructions and guidance for creating and conducting each activity. Also provided are tips for extending activities, making them more or less difficult and addressing challenges that may occur.

Lead author Cameron J. Camp, Ph.D. is a research psychologist specializing in applied gerontology. He is Director and Senior Research Scientist at the Myers Research Institute in Beachwood, Ohio, where he and his staff develop cognitive and behavioral interventions for use with persons with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders. He has co-authored three college textbooks and published over 100 articles.

Vol I and II are similar and you may not need both, but they are good.

Bought this volume and the first too. Really good activity ideas for working with dementia residents at work.

If your loved one pre Alzheimer's diagnoses was into simple crafts kind of stuff this book might be of help. If your loved one is or was a relatively sophisticated person that didn't "craft" or play with blocks, clothes pins, over-sized checkers, etc. in his or her adult life, the book is rubbish. It's author can't know much about Alzheimer's effect on the brain & it's related dementia. Nor how a person with Alzheimer's experiences his or her disease. The brains of people w Alzheimer's are slowly dying NOT turning into that of a mentally retarded misbehaved 6 year old child. If you would like to humiliate, embarrass & dehumanize a relatively sophisticated loved one suffering from AD this is the book for you.

I have twice ordered this product from and twice received copies of Volume I mislabeled as Volume II. Try another supplier.
