Customer Reviews

The only reason I can't give it more stars is that I don't play the instrument. As it turns out, neither does my nephew, whom I sent this as an inspiration! He said he really enjoyed it after he transposed it for trombone!

A little out of my range with most songs having a G or A about staff.

This is just great, I practiced them all for christmas and the tunes went down well, they are well arranged, some of them require so technical skill but with some practice you cant get it. I'll never want to play a christmas charol straight again.

Perfect!

These are wonderful arrangements! I consider myself a solid intermediate player (can sight read most things and have a pretty good range to high C/D - play first chair trumpet in a pit for a local high school's musicals for over 10 years) but this was a bit technically difficult for me to sight read... If I had more time to practice, I would have been fine, but I didn't have time this year, so this book didn't get used as much as I would have wanted to. I do think the book could have given some indication of difficulty just so people know. It did have some parts where the CD would solo and that was not written on the page. I like this (although it is out of my comfort zone)... but I do feel like it captures the jazzy aspect of the selections!
