

The book was found

The Neurotic Parent's Guide To College Admissions: Strategies For Helicoptering, Hot-housing & Micromanaging

Synopsis

Admissions rates of 6 percent? Kids applying to thirty-two colleges? Sixteen-year-olds with more impressive resumes than Fortune 500 CEOs? Has the nation lost its mind? Why yes, it has! J.D. Rothman, the Neurotic Parent of blog fame, takes readers on a hilarious satiric journey through today's insane college admissions process. The vividly illustrated book takes you from the Itsy-Bitsy Fiske Guide and Junior Kumon Tips for Preschoolers through Rejection Letters from the Heart and Bed Bath & Bye-Bye.

Book Information

Paperback: 256 pages

Publisher: Prospect Park Books (February 15, 2012)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 9780983459415

ISBN-13: 978-0983459415

ASIN: 098345941X

Product Dimensions: 5 x 1 x 8 inches

Shipping Weight: 9.6 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 3.9 out of 5 stars 18 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #173,498 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #4 in Books > Engineering & Transportation > Transportation > Aviation > Helicopters #123 in Books > Reference > Consumer Guides #136 in Books > Education & Teaching > Higher & Continuing Education > College Guides

Customer Reviews

"Laugh-out-loud funny... this book is going to be a huge success!" -- Teen Vogue "It's hilarious!" -- Madeleine Brand, KPCC/NPR Witty insight into the admissions process....Smartly satirical, providing hilarious solutions to real problems....Filled with various charts and diagrams that will get your children into Harvard (after deferment, of course). Altogether..a smart, wry look at the process.--St. Louis Magazine "Made us laugh out loud... Rothman is an acute observer of the road to the fat envelope." -- Admission Now "Playful... quirky... belly-busting... full of funny statistics and oddities." -- National Association of College Admissions Counselors "If you need a good laugh at how crazy the college admissions process has become, this is a book for you. Rothman, a television comedy writer, subtly weaves good advice about encouraging students to strike a healthy balance, find their passion and communicate that to colleges." -- Charlotte Observer

J.D. Rothman: J.D. (Judy) Rothman is an Emmy-winning screenwriter and lyricist specializing in comedy and children's programming. She coped with the stress of her son's college-application process by becoming the blogger The Neurotic Parent, which later inspired the book. She also contributed to I'm Going to College, Not You (St. Martin's).

Loved this book. Helps put things into perspective. In this age of packaging, prepping and stressing over your child's college admission, this book is the perfect anti dote for all 'neurotic' parents. I am glad I read it before embarking on the potentially stressful journey of college apps. Yes, they will all be fine and end up where they are supposed to be even though this is the most difficult year for college admissions in the history of mankind!

So funny (and too true). My sister and I both have college and college-bound kids and were joking about writing a book from the perspective of an exasperated parent. This book saves us the hassle. You aren't going to find any truly useful tips, but you will spend some enjoyable time laughing at the college-application and college-years transition.

A wonderful and extremely witty book. I immediately sent copies to everyone I know who is dealing with the application process. As my daughter is a recent graduate of Wesleyan we were intrigued to hear about its new popularity. Thanks to the author for putting all the angst into perspective. Strongly recommend for anyone who has ever dealt with the college experience.

This book is insanely great! Love the great layout and different sections. This books was really funny because she talks about all the ludicrous things that you think down inside about admissions and presents them in an easy to understand format. A great read for students and parents, worth every cent!

I didn't realize it was a satire when I bought it. I thought it was going to be useful. What a waste of my time. Perhaps if you want to give it as a joke

At first I was entertained by the wit and comic anecdotes. But the more I read, the more perceptive and useful insights to the college process I found. Rothman has real world experience and all her examples stay in my mind as reminders of what to do and not do. A consistently useful guide for this neurosis making process.

Everything you never thought you needed to know about getting your child into college is covered in a light, funny, and often bizarre style. even if you don't have kids, but this book for the laughs it will undoubtedly provide!

Three children later, I thought I could spin out the miseries of senior year with my own funny stories. But J.D. has me beat. Her take on the process -- from the different ways different kids approach it through bleary college tours and acceptance/rejection etiquette -- yes! it made me laugh out loud. My youngest son (S.B. (Social Butterfly, an "already in" high school senior) came in the room, saw what I was reading and rolled his eyes. Then I read him a paragraph and he gave a grudging laugh, nodded, and left the room shaking his head. Who knew you could make such great (and yet weirdly respectful) fun of getting into college in its daunting current form? I bow down to Mr/Ms. Rothman's wit and wisdom.

Download to continue reading...

The Neurotic Parent's Guide to College Admissions: Strategies for Helicoptering, Hot-housing & Micromanaging Paying for College Without Going Broke, 2018 Edition: How to Pay Less for College (College Admissions Guides) Paying for College Without Going Broke, 2017 Edition: How to Pay Less for College (College Admissions Guides) The Best Law Schools' Admissions Secrets: The Essential Guide from Harvard's Former Admissions Dean Working with People I Want to Punch in the Throat: Cantankerous Clients, Micromanaging Minions, and Other Supercilious Scourges A Primer on U.S. Housing Markets and Housing Policy (Areuea Monograph Series) The Best Business Schools' Admissions Secrets: A Former Harvard Business School Admissions Board Member Reveals the Insider Keys to Getting In How to Prepare for the Dental Admissions Test (Barron's DAT: Dental Admissions Test) College Essay Essentials: A Step-by-Step Guide to Writing a Successful College Admissions Essay Breaking Into College: The Underground Playbook for College Admissions The Best 381 Colleges, 2017 Edition: Everything You Need to Make the Right College Choice (College Admissions Guides) Pets on the Couch: Neurotic Dogs, Compulsive Cats, Anxious Birds, and the New Science of Animal Psychiatry Psychotherapy Of Neurotic Character The Kids' College Almanac: A First Look at College (Kids' College Almanac: First Look at College) The Snazzy Jazzy Nutcracker: Hot, Hot, Hot in 1929! Hot Hot Hot Hot Sauce!: Techniques for Making Signature Hot Sauces, with 32 Recipes to Get You Started; Includes 60 Recipes for Using Your Hot Sauces A Parent's Guide to St. Louis (Parent's Guide Press Travel series) The Baffled

Parent's Guide to Coaching Girls' Lacrosse (Baffled Parent's Guides) The Baffled Parent's Guide to Coaching Tee Ball (Baffled Parent's Guides)

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help