Conflict: Is It Right To Fight? (A First Look At...)

Synopsis

This book looks at why people fight each other. It talks about differences of opinion and beliefs, and touches on the way some people use bullying as a means of forcing others to accept their opinions. It uses everyday examples of conflict, such as those from home and the playground, to help children understand conflicts in the wider world. It concludes by looking at conflict resolution. With beautiful artwork by Lesley Harker.

Customer Reviews

'The pictures in [this volume], innocent, bright and sympathetic, are well realised, and there are instructions for teachers and parents on the use of the book.' -- Books for Keeps 20030701

'Examines conflict at home and school and looks at non-violent ways of conflict resolution. A useful introduction to the topic, particularly for classroom use.' -- Evening Echo 20030329

Pat Thomas is a trained psychotherapist, trainee Naturopath, journalist and mother. After working as a journalist and broadcaster in the USA, she now works in the field of women's health and child development and writes for publications such as The Guardian Company Magazine and Practical Parenting as well as contributing editor to Natural Parent Magazine. Her book 'MY Bees: My Family's Changing' was the winner of The English 4-11 Awards.

This book has great discussion questions, amazing illustrations, and teaches why there is fighting, who fights, and other ways to solve problems without having to fight.
