Joe Kertzman has authored 12 editions of the Knives annual book, as well as the Art of the Knife, BLADE's Guide to Making Knives and four editions of Sporting Knives. Joe is also Managing Editor of BLADE Magazine.

Just like the previous years, its a great annual publication on custom and production knives. There are a few articles in the front and a nice directory of the featured makers in the back, if you were so inclined to contact them. I buy one every year and with the exception of some hoaky commentary, it is a solid publication worthy of being in any knife lovers library.

This is the world's greatest knife book. Not only are there the wonderful styles and varieties of knives, but there are practical and educational aspects to it as well. I would have bought it just for the article "From Beach Sand to Blade"- the rest was just a bonus.

I have many books on knives but none better than this one. The photos are super and I spent way too much time just looking at the pictures and not getting any work done. Very, very nice book. Loved it!!!

Always good to a "Knife Knut"

I have the entire series of Knives annuals. I enjoy the pictures and descriptions. The articles are always interesting. Well worth buying all of the series.

I don't know if it's the "world's greatest knife book" but it sure made the "world's greatest husband" happy! Looks like I'll be buying the 2013 soon!

I buy this magazine every year and it just keeps getting better and better. Plus without saying names the company I get a lot of knives from sells it for $10 more and acts like It's a big deal. Bottom line get it! You wont be sorry...

Have purchased previous versions of this book. A most desirable reference for knife collectors. Best way to keep up with what's happening in the knife world.
